Dear Prime Minister Barak,

It was a great pleasure to meet you in St. Petersburg at the recent economic forum.

Following the official invitation that I handed to you, let me one more time invite you to the Gaidar Forum / 2016 “Russia and the World: Looking to the Future” that will be held on 13-15 January 2016.

The Gaidar Forum is organized by the Russian Presidential Academy of National Economy and Public Administration (RANEPA). It was established in 2010 in tribute to the memory of Yegor Gaidar, the leading Russian economist and the architect of the Russian reforms of the early 1990s, and over this time, it has become the country’s central political and economic event.

Among the Forum’s guests have been: Dmitry Medvedev (Prime Minister of the Russian Federation), Michel Roger (Minister of State of the Principality of Monaco), Jacob Frenkel (Chairman, JPMorgan Chase International), Robert Mundell (Nobel Prize Laureate in Economics), Christopher A. Pissarides (Nobel Prize Laureate in Economics), Vaclav Klaus (President of the Czech Republic (2003-2013)), Senator Mario Monti (Prime Minister of Italy (2011-2013)), Jean-Claude Trichet (Chairman of the Group of Thirty, President of the European Central Bank (2003 – 2011)), Marek Belka (President of the National Bank of Poland), Immanuel Wallerstein (Professor, Yale University), Angel Gurria (Secretary-General of OECD), Pascal Lamy (Director-General of the WTO), and many others.

You may see details at www.gaidarforum.ru/eng

We are convinced that your extensive experience would extremely important for the Gaidar Forum / 2016.

I sincerely look forward to your participation, and the Organizing Committee of the Forum will be in touch regarding the details of your visit.

Sincerely yours,

Vladimir Mau
